

ITALIANS HURL BACK AUSTRIANS WHO TRY TO WIN LOST GROUND

Hand-to-Hand Battle Follows Attacks Upon Positions at Freikofel—General Cadorna Reports Repulse of Foe's Assaults.

ROME, June 24.—Repelling all attacks made by the Austrians upon the positions taken by the Italians, King Victor Emmanuel's troops are successfully pursuing their campaign of invasion, according to today's official report from headquarters. The opposing forces are now at close quarters, making use of hand grenades in their combats. The official report follows: "Artillery duels in which guns of medium and large calibre are being used are intensified along the whole front. The enemy attacked during the night our positions at Monte Piano, Dal Grande, Pal Cipolo and Cresta Verde, which we occupied yesterday. Insistent attempts to invade our Freikofel position, which during the night of June 22 and the following day sustained three assaults, were all repelled with the help of artillery and hand grenades. The enemy left 200 dead on the field. At Concazzolo the enemy is working to mount heavy artillery on the surrounding heights. In the Monte Nero district the day passed tranquilly. Official denial was issued by the Italian Government today of the charge alleged to have been made by Pope Benedict XV in an interview with a French journalist that the Italian censor had opened mail addressed to the Vatican. The Italian Government's statement in reference to the charges of interference with the Vatican mail said: "Since the opening of hostilities every care has been exercised to enable the Pontiff to correspond freely with his Bishops of the Catholic world. Of hundreds of letters received and sent out by the Holy See only two coming from a war zone were opened by mistake. The censor was instructed to pass them unopened. The Holy See's mail, addressed to Austria, was duly sent via Switzerland. Two letters addressed to the Papal Nuncio in Austria were returned because coming from a belligerent nation. While it is rumored that the question of removing the Holy See to Spain is under consideration by the Pope and his advisers, Vatican officials decline to discuss the matter or even admit that it has been discussed.

MALBORGHETTO STORMED BY ITALIAN TROOPS

Slowly Clearing Road to Tarvis—Austrians Strong Along Isonzo.

PARIS, June 24.—The Italians have taken all the defenses surrounding Malborghetto and are now storming the town itself, according to a dispatch from Ljubach, Austria, arriving here by way of Geneva. Malborghetto, which was heavily fortified, has been the objective of an Italian army slowly advancing along the railroad to Tarvis for a month. The Italian War Office has announced that the forts had all been demolished several days ago. The fall of the place, which now seems imminent, will go a long way toward clearing the road to Tarvis, through which one of the main railways from Trieste to the interior of the empire runs. The dispatch says the fighting has been of a very bitter character in the region and that the Austrians are offering strong resistance. The same dispatch says Austrian reinforcements have stopped the Italian advance at Caporetto and that 30,000 Austrians who debouched from the Ternoza Forest are now marching against the Italian positions north of Gorizia. It is also stated that southeast of

BRITAIN SEEKS MACHINERY

Government Agent Buys Tools Here for Arms Manufacture.

PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—The inadaptability of equipment for trench fighting and the scarcity of high explosive shells in the English army is responsible for the presence of Walter W. Gibbons, of London, a representative of the British Government, in this city, to place orders for machinery used in the manufacture of high explosive shells. According to Mr. Gibbons, the English made quantities of equipment at the beginning of the war and now find themselves overstocked with it. This type of shell is ineffective in the trenches, he said today, and so far there has been little open field fighting. English manufacturers, running their plants at top speed, are trying to get enough machinery to increase the output of high explosives, he said. Lathes and drilling machines are being bought by Mr. Gibbons in Philadelphia.

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

LEMBERG RECEIVED VICTORS WITH TE DEUM

Children Strewed Flowers in Pathway of Conquerors. Welcome Enthusiastic.

LEMBERG, June 21 (Delayed in transmission via Vienna, Berlin and Amsterdam).—Austria-Hungary's victorious troops entered Lemberg at noon today. The commanding officers attended a solemn Te Deum of thanksgiving a short time after their arrival. As the troops marched into the city they were given an enthusiastic greeting. Children threw flowers before them while their elders gave them refreshments. The city had suffered little during the Russian occupation. The Czar's troops treating it as a capital. When they withdrew they set fire to large oil tanks on the outskirts, but otherwise destroyed little of value.

AMERICANS HELP GERMANY, BRITAIN SAYS IN NOTE

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The State Department has received Great Britain's reply to the American note of March 20, which protested against the British order in council. The text of the note will be given out for publication Friday. It is generally understood in Administration circles that this note was prepared by the British Foreign Office at this time in an attempt to halt the President in his determination to send a stiff note to London demanding that the rights of American shippers shall be respected by the British Admiralty. The memorandum received calls the attention of this Government to the tremendous increases in exports of certain products of the United States to neutral countries adjacent to Germany, and insists that many of these exports eventually reach the German military authorities. The memorandum repeats the British contention that the Allies have no desire to interfere with the legitimate trade of the United States destined to neutral ports, and assurances are given that the British authorities will accelerate delivery of American shipments whenever they are not attended by suspicious circumstances.

REVENTLOW'S PAPER RENEWS ATTACK ON UNITED STATES

BERLIN, June 24.—The Deutsche Tages Zeitung, recently suppressed by the Government because of its articles on the German-American situation, reappeared today with an attack on President Wilson. The Tages Zeitung said there were reports that President Wilson had suggested a peace conference to be held in Switzerland. It asserted that though Wilson had repeatedly declared America's neutrality, he had closed the neutral Panama Canal to neutral trade, thus accelerating the shipment of war munitions to the Allies and particularly strengthening Russia. "At the same time," said the Tages Zeitung, "President Wilson is demanding safe conduct for swimming arsenals supplied by the British Foreign Office at this time in an attempt to halt the President in his determination to send a stiff note to London demanding that the rights of American shippers shall be respected by the British Admiralty. The memorandum received calls the attention of this Government to the tremendous increases in exports of certain products of the United States to neutral countries adjacent to Germany, and insists that many of these exports eventually reach the German military authorities. The memorandum repeats the British contention that the Allies have no desire to interfere with the legitimate trade of the United States destined to neutral ports, and assurances are given that the British authorities will accelerate delivery of American shipments whenever they are not attended by suspicious circumstances.

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

GERMANY MAY HEED HUMANITY PLEA

Continued from Page One questions raised by the United States, but on the general suggestions it is admitted in official quarters that Ambassador Gerard has been assured by the chief officials in Berlin that Germany hopes her answer will be acceptable here. Germany, it is positively known, will agree that American citizens can go as they please through the submarine war zone. The President has asked Secretary Lansing to keep him informed concerning all developments. He has agreed that the new note to Great Britain shall be sent forward as soon as all questions in dispute can be framed. It is understood, however, that the contemplated announcement of a new doctrine of action by this Government shall be deferred until after the German reply is available here.

AMERICANS HELP GERMANY, BRITAIN SAYS IN NOTE

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The State Department has received Great Britain's reply to the American note of March 20, which protested against the British order in council. The text of the note will be given out for publication Friday. It is generally understood in Administration circles that this note was prepared by the British Foreign Office at this time in an attempt to halt the President in his determination to send a stiff note to London demanding that the rights of American shippers shall be respected by the British Admiralty. The memorandum received calls the attention of this Government to the tremendous increases in exports of certain products of the United States to neutral countries adjacent to Germany, and insists that many of these exports eventually reach the German military authorities. The memorandum repeats the British contention that the Allies have no desire to interfere with the legitimate trade of the United States destined to neutral ports, and assurances are given that the British authorities will accelerate delivery of American shipments whenever they are not attended by suspicious circumstances.

REVENTLOW'S PAPER RENEWS ATTACK ON UNITED STATES

BERLIN, June 24.—The Deutsche Tages Zeitung, recently suppressed by the Government because of its articles on the German-American situation, reappeared today with an attack on President Wilson. The Tages Zeitung said there were reports that President Wilson had suggested a peace conference to be held in Switzerland. It asserted that though Wilson had repeatedly declared America's neutrality, he had closed the neutral Panama Canal to neutral trade, thus accelerating the shipment of war munitions to the Allies and particularly strengthening Russia. "At the same time," said the Tages Zeitung, "President Wilson is demanding safe conduct for swimming arsenals supplied by the British Foreign Office at this time in an attempt to halt the President in his determination to send a stiff note to London demanding that the rights of American shippers shall be respected by the British Admiralty. The memorandum received calls the attention of this Government to the tremendous increases in exports of certain products of the United States to neutral countries adjacent to Germany, and insists that many of these exports eventually reach the German military authorities. The memorandum repeats the British contention that the Allies have no desire to interfere with the legitimate trade of the United States destined to neutral ports, and assurances are given that the British authorities will accelerate delivery of American shipments whenever they are not attended by suspicious circumstances.

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

VIENNA, June 24—

The following official resume of the operations of the first month of war along the Italian frontier was issued today: "During the first month of the war the Italians have gained no great success. Out troops in the southwest maintain their positions as in the beginning, on or near the frontier. "On the Isonzo front in the fortified frontier district from Filitsch to Malborghetto, on the Carinthian ridge, and on all the fronts of the Tyrol all enemy attempts at an advance have collapsed with heavy losses."

PORT OF PHILADELPHIA Vessels Arriving Today. Table with columns for Name, From, and Date. Includes vessels like Str. Kongoan Maru, Str. Blavanger, etc.

Steamships to Arrive. Table with columns for Name, From, and Date. Includes vessels like Str. Kongoan Maru, Str. Blavanger, etc.

Steamships to Leave. Table with columns for Name, For, and Date. Includes vessels like Str. Kongoan Maru, Str. Blavanger, etc.

The Great 3 Magazine. Sizing Us Up. 27 Real Stories and Fact Articles. For quick readers. Some tell their story in a paragraph. Others need a page. None is a word longer than necessary. Every line and every picture comes right to the point. Here are some: 'A Wise Jane', 'Women Who Earn $10,000 a Year', 'I'm Going to Marry Peggy', 'Two Women Wood Choppers', 'Three Meals a Day for 3c', 'Beatrice Herford', 'Edwin F. Bowers M. D. answers this often-put question: "Shall I drink with my meals?"'. For spare-moment reading turn to these interesting 3 minute articles: 'How Can I Save Enough to Buy a Home?', 'Aging Forty Years in Three Days', 'What to Do When You're Lost in the Woods', 'Club Life for Babies'. More of the Mystery Story "Who Was Marie Dupont?". Every Week. The first 3 weekly Illustrated in America. Out Friday.

BRANDYWINE SPRINGS PARK. BEST ONE-DAY TRIP AT LOWEST COST. Special Excursion Rate from Philadelphia to Brandywine Springs Park. BIG PARK KNOWN TO ALL. Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays—Adults, only 60 cents; children, 35 cents. ALL OTHER DAYS. Adults, only 35 cents; children, 25 cents. THE LOUISBURG. Bar Harbor, Maine. Open July 1 to Sept. 15. L.C. PRIOR, Mgr. Hotel Lenox, Boston. SUMMIT HOUSE. Chabogue, Me. Country & seashore. Beds. Bedford Springs (Pa.) Hotel and Baths. In the most delightful section of the beautiful, beautiful, Adirondack Mountains. Cool, invigorating breezes. Good roads for motor-cars. Bathing, fishing, boating, and other outdoor diversions. BATHS & MEDICINAL WATERS NOW OPEN. E. E. HENIS, Manager. EAGLE'S NEST, PA. THE CRESTMONT INN. EAGLE'S NEST, PA. SCHUYLVILLE, PA. PERKOWSKI HOTEL. Hotel modern, quiet, comfortable. Bathing, fishing, boating, and other outdoor diversions. BATHS & MEDICINAL WATERS NOW OPEN. E. E. HENIS, Manager.